PUBLIC MEETING

Commission permanente du conseil d'agglomération sur le développement économique

PUBLIC STUDY OF ECONOMIC ISSUES LINKED TO THE REHABILITATION OF CONTAMINATED SOIL

Contaminated soil is a major stumbling block in the development of Montréal. The tools now at our disposal to fund the costs of soil rehabilitation only partially meet the needs and expectations of private owners and cities in the urban agglomeration. The public study will enable us to take stock of the situation and explore new avenues for the future.
